Affirmation from Ish

We are moving towards a transitional phase in the universe. Old structures, old traditions, and old ways of thinking, such as those which prohibited same-sex marriages will be ending. There will be a major change in how beings in the universe communicate with each other. It will be possible to create "thought-chains" on a worldwide basis. The thought-chains will lead the way to world peace.

Affirmation from Ish

The act of creation is a testament to the ability of a species to survive in perilous times. As species disappear from the living world, their energy is transformed. Just as each human soul leaves an imprint on the world when they pass, each species that is lost combines with earth bound energies to create new living beings and new species to repopulate the earth.

Affirmation

This message came to me from Ish last night and I wanted to share it with all of you: In the afterlife you are without form, and your soul transmits energy from the seed of life that created you. You will feel and think and see and hear but all of these sense activities are translated into light beams that connect with the light around you-these are the light beams of other souls.

This may seem impossible when one considers all the afterlife that must be present since the beginning of time. But each soul is like one layer of an onion, and the onion is the universe itself. When we contact the deceased, we create a cord of energy, like an electric cord and we plug in to that particular soul. If the cord is tight, then the information comes quickly and clearly. If the cord is loose, because the channeler doubts his or her abilities, the connection is not as clear.

In this after life, you have the ability to create. Some of this creative activity is transmuted into a living being and this is what we see as reincarnation. But the essence of you remains always and forever and it is to this energy we connect when we channel.

April 2010

There is a surge of energy running through the earth's core in a wave pattern. It is reflected in the recent earthquake activity and is underscoring a resettling and shifting of the earth's magnetic pull. There will be subtle changes in average temperatures, as well as shifting of tides and rivers throughout the world as a result. A fire in the Midwest United States, in a very industrial area, possibly in Minnesota, will reveal a trace of iron ore that may be affecting the chemical composition of the soil and water in that area.

Affirmation from Ish

The quality of your life is dependent upon how you interpret and handle your experiences.

If you choose to let things happen to you instead of focusing on how to make things happen then you will view life as pre-ordained and unchangeable. But if in the midst of a decision, transition, or life-changing experience, you go inward to your higher self and see all the possible pathways ahead of you, you will take charge and choose that which is for your higher good and for the higher good of the universe.

Affirmation from Ish

Question: Since we are One and perfect as part of the Divine Spirit, why is it necessary to have physical existences into order to achieve perfection when we were perfect to begin with?

Ish's Answer: Because you can't know what perfection is until you've known failure.

June 2010

Affirmation from Ish

Each human soul is unique, but we are all connected to one universal heartbeat.

August 2010

Affirmation from Ish

The moment we are born, we create sense impressions that last our entire lives. We treasure our memories but we neglect to acknowledge the small moments in each day.

September 2010

Affirmation from Ish

Trust in the universe creates a connection within each soul, and each soul's body is a universe unto itself.

Affirmation from Ish

October 2010

One's emotional state is primarily a reaction to other beings and energies. To advance in emotional and cerebral awareness, be present and quiet within yourself and you will hear your inner voice.

Affirmation from Ish

Your body is a vessel that is filled with light at your birth. As you travel through your time on earth you attract light bodies to you that guide you to be of higher consciousness.
